Hello Lene

Did you and Steve have a chance to discuss this before he left. Do you have some time to discuss with me this week?

Thanks

Nicole

Lene,

Nicole asked me to get more involved in the drafting of this response to the Navy. I am sending you a revised draft. I am hoping that we can discuss this sometime today, but I think it would be better to do this one-on-one rather than having too many cooks in the kitchen. I think we both want to get to the same place; moving beyond the initial destructive testing study in a way that gathers additional data to address shortcomings of the initial study.

I will try to give you a call right after our call with the Navy if that works for you. Thanks
